ALFRED COURMES THE SINGULAR MONSIEUR COURMES

16.09.2022 – 05.11.2022

“The Singular Monsieur Courmes” is the first exhibition devoted to the work of Alfred Courmes (France, 1898–1993) to be shown at Galerie Loevenbruck. It will span more than half a century in the practice of this singular painter, through a dozen paintings dating from the 1920s to the 1980s.

This event extends the exhibition “Alfred Courmes. Séduisant provocateur” curated by Raphaël Dupouy at the Villa Théo in Lavandou, where Courmes spent his youth:

Alfred Courmes was born in Bormes-les-Mimosas in 1898 into a bourgeois family where music and painting could only be leisure activities. A young man of fragile health, in 1919 he found himself bedridden in a sanatorium near Clermont-Ferrand with the painter Roger de la Fresnaye as his neighbour. A paternal presence, La Fresnaye taught him how to draw and paint in his signature Cubist manner. However, while retaining its principle of rigorous composition, Courmes gradually broke free of this pictorial doctrine in favour of a very personal brand of realism. After his youth in Lavandou, from 1927 to 1929 he lived in Ostend where he got married and discovered the Flemish masters. Courmes made Paris his permanent home and began to weave these tendencies into a very original style of painting that went against the grain of fashion. Against backgrounds worthy of the Quattrocento, his pictures revisited mythology and religious texts in a blend of modernity and humour that verged on cynicism. Defying taboos and beliefs, he was despised by right-thinking circles, and yet he was awarded the Paul-Guillaume prize in 1936 and won two state commissions in 1937, including the decoration of the dining room of the French embassy in Ottawa. Today, the value of this singular and endearing artist has at last been recognized and he is acknowledged in the art world as an important precursor of Pop Art and Figuration Narrative. Young painters have acclaimed this unclassifiable figure as the initiator of a certain modern sensibility, notably in his appropriation of advertising imagery.

Éditions Loevenbruck publish a unique essay by Christian Derouet on Alfred Courmes and his work; an exhibition catalogue, distributed exclusively at the Loevenbruck gallery, which brings together reproductions of eight works, some of which are iconic, as well as a list of works held in French public collections, and two photographs by Robert Doisneau, portrait of the painter in his Paris studio on rue de Flandres in April 1972.

Galerie Loevenbruck represents the Fonds Alfred Courmes since 2019.
